This simple map shows where you can visit the studios and workshops of members shown in this booklet. Each member's page has clear and simple instructions on how to get there, as well as the opening times and other useful information.

You'll notice Creative Trail signs as you drive around Orkney. However, not all possible routes benefit from signage, so it's always wise to refer to the directions given in these pages to guide you.

Symbols on the maker's pages indicate the facilities and services available at each location.

Zoe Davidson Jewellery takes inspiration from Orkney's seas, coastlines, and rich history. She combines traditional silversmithing techniques with more unusual methods like fold-forming and anti-clastic raising to create her designs.

After graduating in Jewellery & Metal Design from Dundee's Duncan of Jordanstone College of Art & Design in 2013, Zoe interned with Iris Van Herpen in Amsterdam and jeweller Gilly Langton in Plockton before working with two Orkney-based jewellery companies. She launched her own business in 2016, and in 2019, she earned several accolades, including a Bronze award at Scotland's Trade Fair and a nomination for the '30 Under 30 Rising Star Awards' in Retail Jeweller.

Beyond her signature collections, Zoe specialises in bespoke jewellery, including remodelling cherished pieces, creating bold statement designs, and crafting engagement and wedding rings tailored to individual stories.

Jeanne's exuberant painting style captures the essence of Orkney's light, weather and heritage. Working in oil paint and watercolour, Jeanne is constantly inspired by Orkney's land and sky in monoprints and on canvas.

As an artist in residence for the now closed Ness of Brodgar excavations, she created a body of work that explored the enigmatic archaeological structures and the working archaeologists. With the site being covered over, the value of her 'Ness' paintings increase and preserve moments in 'our' time.

New York born and trained, her journey to Orkney spans over 40 years, and she is well placed for her favoured sources of inspiration, the UNESCO World Heritage landscapes.

Since opening in the centre of Dounby in 2014 the shop has become a window into Orkney's vast creativity with a comprehensive range of 'Made in Orkney' products sourced from around 100 local artists and craftspeople. You can even enjoy a delicious Orkney Roastery coffee or a tub of Artisan ice cream from the Orkney Creamery.

Regularly described by visitors as 'a Treasure Trove, an Aladdin's Cave, a Gem and a Delight' and with something for every taste, this shop is a must to add to your itinerary.

Fiona's own range of tweed garments, gifts, home and fashion accessories, artwork and knitwear is complemented by a wide range of timeless and contemporary products including traditional Orkney chairs and bride's cogs.

The Workshop

Adjoining the shop is Fiona's work space where you can find her working with the world renowned Harris Tweed. Sourced from the Outer Hebrides, the cloth itself, with its variety of colours and patterns, and the local scenery and wildlife, is often the inspiration behind Fiona's product range. We now offer a selection of short crafting sessions in the quieter months, please check Facebook for details.

awe! Children welcome

Welcome to our Tour Bus Free Zone.

The Harray Potter welcomes you! A unique workshop and retail experience of a generational business. Founded by Andrew Appleby in 1975, joined now by his son Nicky and grandson Zenon, the Pottery in Harray inhabits the Auld School Hoose.

Come and join us for a chat while we work, and learn about our process. Pick up and experience our strong, light and ergonomic pots. Comfy and beautiful! Here you will find our tableware, one of a kind art pieces, fun figurines, and classic ceramic jewellery and buttons, all made by hand right here.

STAR GLAZING... Like an inky Arctic star studded sky over deepest snow. This finish always reminds me of Dr John Rae, Orkney's intrepid Arctic Explorer. Read more of him on www.johnraesociety.com

WELCOME... Our workshop is such a vibrant place to visit! There's always something going on, so do come and see us.

FREE UK postage for cyclists, bikers and hikers on purchases over £50!

Directions:

From South Ronaldsay and Kirkwall: take the A965 towards Stromness, turn right at the A986 for just over 2 miles. The pottery is a big whitish building with a huge red teapot painted high on the gable.

From Stromness: take the A965 and turn left after Maes Howe. Wind along the lovely Stoneyhill Road, and after just over 2 miles, turn left again for 209 metres.

Alan and Norah Bowmer have lived in Birsay since 2001 and combined their passions for photography and machine embroidery, the results of which can be seen and bought from their gallery in Harray.

Having travelled extensively with their cameras, focusing on dramatic landscapes, seascapes and wildlife, they share images from Orkney's rich diversity of photo opportunities as well as scenes from around the world. Photographic items available to purchase include gallery wrap canvases, pH neutral mounted or rolled prints, with a wide selection of media types and sizes to choose from. All are printed in house to Giclée standard on large format media and canvas printers.

Embroidered goods include exclusive guitar/mandolin straps with genuine leather end pieces, wall art, soft furnishings, greetings cards and a wide range of gifts. Alan's laser etched oak coasters also available.

Watch work in progress in the main gallery or through the viewing window into the cosy workshop.

Looking for something special and have an idea in mind? Come and chat with us about a truly customised project for that special occasion or gift, including having your own photograph printed as a piece of wall art.

Michael is an Orcadian who has been practicing the craft of woodturning for over 30 years, he is self-taught and has honed his skills using a combination of practice, experimentation and the desire to produce fine attractive pieces.

He was accepted onto the Register of Professional Turners (RPT) in 2017.

He specialises in unique one off pieces of woodturning. These pieces are heavily influenced by the Neolithic artifacts found here in the islands. He is now exploring iron age and Viking treasures which are also influencing his work, along with some nautical themes reflecting his past career at sea.

Hardwood logs are processed on site utilising a chainsaw and our own small sawmill. This gives Michael the greatest flexibility to cut the best blank for the piece he has in mind.

A mixture of modern, traditional and hand techniques are used to achieve the desired effect in the finished piece.

All this results in Michael creating unique pieces to enhance any setting.

Woodwick Gallery

Orkney inspired oil paintings and wildlife sculptures.

David's oil paintings reflect the landscape of Orkney, its intense and ever-changing light and weather. Many of the paintings feature the traditional buildings which over generations have become an integral part of the natural landscape.

The wood sculptures re-create the birds and animals of Orkney and elsewhere, seeking to give permanence to the fleeting images of wildlife. Standing approximately life-size, these are individually sculpted and each one is unique.

Celebrating 20 years in business, Orkney Hand Crafted Furniture was launched in 2004 by Fraser Anderson. The business was born out of his love of working with wood and the look, feel and design of a classic Orkney chair.

Fraser creates traditional and bespoke Orcadian furniture - from chairs and stools, to tables, mirrors and everything in between - at his workshop in Kirkwall. Everything is built by hand, using techniques and tools derived from generations of furniture makers in the islands.

Driftwood collected from the Orkney shoreline is often used to make unique pieces of furniture - indeed, you'll regularly see huge cuts of wood salvaged from the sea drying outside Fraser's workshop.

Come and visit to see Fraser and his family help keep Orkney's long-standing tradition of craftsmanship alive. You can also visit his gallery to see his latest range of items.

Orkney chairs have been at the heart of island homes for centuries

Traditionally made from driftwood found on the shoreline, their distinctive oat straw backs, often hooded, offered shelter from the draughts in old stone croft houses.

Scapa Crafts have been hand-making premium quality Orkney chairs for over thirty years, carrying on this Orcadian tradition, with pride, passion and attention to detail.

The majority of our bases and frames are now made using only the highest quality hardwoods, including oak, walnut and sapele.

We offer three different sizes of chair – gent's, lady's and child's – with the option of a hood and/or a drawer. You can also choose from a solid wood or woven seagrass seat.

We look forward to welcoming you to our Kirkwall workshop to view our range of Orkney chairs and see the ancient technique of hand-stitching the straw backs in progress.

Orkney Glass Hut Studio and Gallery

Orkney Glass Hut Studio and Gallery overlooks the historic Scapa Flow with uninterrupted views of the Island of Hoy.

Orkney Glass Hut is a small family-run business specialising in fused glass art, with Liz as the driving and artistic force. Originally from NE England, Liz relocated to Burray in 2012 having fallen in love with the islands on holiday. Her professional career spans 25 years teaching in primary and secondary schools as well as Special Educational Needs but her passion for and involvement in art goes back well before this. The 'pull' into her artistic journey was inevitable, and now, this has culminated into two distinct passions: Fused Glass and Naïve Art.

All the original art created at Orkney Glass Hut is unique, hand-made and inspired by the flora, fauna, scenery, weather, traditions, people and places throughout Orkney.

You can visit the working Studio and Gallery, book a taster session or join in a workshop with Liz. You can browse workshop dates and times and book a place at www.orkneyglasshut.co.uk/book-online.

Many participants come to the Workshops stating that they're not artistic; many leave following Liz's personal and professional guidance and encouragement stunned at how artistic they can be. Come and try fused glass for yourself at a leisurely afternoon or evening with the Orkney Glass Hut fused glass experience.

We are open mid-week for visits and viewing but if you wish please contact us to arrange a visit outside of our normal opening times.

Family run art gallery by artist Jo Thomson and her brother Andrew, established in 1996 by their late mother, artist Leila Thomson.

Jo graduated in Painting from Edinburgh College of Art in 2010, thirty years after her mother, Leila who graduated in Tapestry from Edinburgh College of Art in 1980. Although trained as a painter Jo grew up weaving alongside her mother and as a result her work is a creative blend of painting and handwoven tapestry.

Jo and Leila's artwork is inspired by the rhythm of life and landscape of Orkney, where they were born and brought up. Leila sadly passed away in 2022 but her artwork remains on display at the gallery.

Original artwork, hand-crafted rugs, photographic prints and cards are available to purchase at the gallery.

Directions:

The Hoxa Tapestry Gallery is a 3 mile drive from St. Margaret's Hope. Follow the Creative Orkney signs to Hoxa Head, up past the Smithy museum, out past the Sands o' Wright beach. The Gallery overlooks Scapa Flow.

Bill McArthur
3 Lettan,
Sanday, Orkney, KW17 2BP

tel: 01857 600381
mob: 07712139624

e: billtoon3@btinternet.com

Season: There are no set opening hours, as the artist is happy to hold 'open studio' whenever he's at home, regardless of the time of year.

If you are planning a visit an advance a phone call would be advisable as, from time to time, I may be off-island.

Pay by: cash, cheque or Paypal

Like a number of the other members of the Orkney Creative Trail, Bill McArthur is a graduate of Edinburgh College of Art. His seascapes, primarily done in oils, derive from his many years spent working as a commercial fisherman round the Scottish coasts and as far afield as St Kilda and Rockall. They also reflect the beautiful beaches and coastline of Sanday where he and his family have lived for many years. Prints of many of his paintings are also available in a range of sizes from the studio.

Directions:

From the ferry at Loth take the road towards the Start Lighthouse but when you come to the sign at the turn-off for the lighthouse keep to the narrow main road which then takes a very steep left turn. Half a mile along this road you will see the Nortwa' Studio signs on the left.

Style, simplicity, comfort and quality are the bywords for the Quernstone's unique range of luxury knitwear, all designed and handmade in Orkney. Based in the picturesque, historic town of Stromness since 1984, the Quernstone has built up a loyal following with customers looking for stylish yet easy to wear garments in a broad choice of colours.

Made in Orkney by a highly skilled group of knitters, using only the finest quality yarns, this distinctive signature knitwear is to be found within the Quernstone's dedicated Victoria Street knitwear shop. Housed in a 1920s ice-cream parlour, the shop also stocks a large selection of clothing, accessories and yarns. Quernstone knitwear is also available in outlets throughout the UK and is sold online through the company's own website.

Across the street you'll find the Quernstone's ever popular gift shop, which stocks a wonderfully eclectic variety of items – everything from cards and stationery to jewellery, furnishings, ceramics and toys. Surprises and quirkiness are guaranteed here, reflecting the Quernstone's innovative approach to the retail experience and desire to keep things fresh and interesting for all its customers.
